DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

- The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 2. (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).
- 3. Claim(s) 19-34 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ludwig et al. (US Patent No. 5,884,039).
- 4. As per claim(s) 19 and 28 Ludwig discloses a web zone for allowing a plurality of client computers to access the scalable system via a global-area network, the web zone having at least one web server (See Column 8, lines 15-26); a meeting zone for supporting an on-line conference among the plurality of client computers, the meeting zone having a meeting manager, a plurality of collaboration servers, and a plurality of application server, wherein: the meeting manager is operable to manage the on-line conference in the meeting zone (See Column 20, Lines 5-37); each collaboration server is operable to host at least a portion of the on-line conference (See Column 20, Lines 5-37); and each application server is operable to support at least on eservice for the on-line conference; wherein the meeting zone allows an application program executing on one of the client computers in the on-line conference to be shared with at least a portion of the other client computers in the on-line conference (See Column 19, Lines 30-67).

Response to Arguments

19. Applicant's arguments filed April 14, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants assert that the prior art of record fails to teach any of the claimed limitations, including "system for application sharing in collaborative setting," the "web zone," the "meeting zone," the "meeting manager," the plurality of collaborative servers," and the plurality of application servers."

The examiner respectfully disagrees with the applicants' interpretation of the prior art of record. Applicant here makes a bald assertion that the Ludwig et al. simply does not teach the claimed invention without any discussion of the teachings of Ludwig. Applicant should submit an argument under the heading "Remarks" pointing out disagreements with the examiner's contentions. Applicant must also discuss the references applied against the claims, explaining how the claims avoid the references or distinguish from them.

Generally, Ludwig teaches a system for on-line conferencing wherein users may collaborate and share applications. A graphical user interface is provided to a user to allow users to begin a session, i.e. Meeting Zone (col. 19, lines 23-29). A meeting manager is provided to manage the online session (Service Server 69 and Conference Bridge Manager CBM 64 and WAN Network Manager WNM 65, col. 20, lines 6-37). A collaboration server hosts an on-line conference (the collaboration initiator and AVNM, col. 19, lines 30-47 and col. 20, lines 26-37). Applications servers enables application sharing (Application Sharing 166, col. 19, lines 48-55).

As fully detailed above, the prior art is deemed to teach all limitations claimed, and therefore the claim rejections are deemed to be proper.
